World Wheat Shortage Seen By U.K. Paper

MANCHESTER, May 15.—(CP)—A world wheat shortage may develop next year, the Manchester Guardian said today in an editorial.

The newspaper commented: "In Canada, the world's largest wheat-exporting country and our own main source of bread, the day of the great wheat glut is definitely over. It is a stark and certain fact, and its effects may spread far."

U.S. CHIEF CAUSE

The chief cause of the change here in the United States, which used to export wheat to now is importing enormous quantities for purposes other than bread. It is estimated that the United States will consume this season (August to July) at least 1,300,000 bushels of wheat.

"If consumption goes on at the present rate it is obvious that in 1945 the United States will be unable to use up its stocks and become a net importer of wheat from Canada."

"It seems fairly certain that only the exportable stocks of Australia and Canada can avert a serious world shortage of bread grain, but even these will not be large enough unless firm measures are taken to reserve the present trend in North America."

YEAR'S WARNING

There now is a year's warning that wheat is running short, and if the proper decisions are taken now it should not be a problem. It is a warning for a much larger production of wheat, or of wheat substitutes, or of other raw materials. It is the time that the whole problem was taken up by the United States government, and that the public opinion took an interest in it. What happens in American agriculture in the next 12 months will affect all our lives for several years to come."

Alberta Bank Bill Referred To Committee

This bill had been followed Canadian economy would be in a better position.

In summing up his opinion of the bill, Mr. Isley said: "It is a policy to have the province of Alberta as a bank."

"Do you call that a bank because it has the bank of Canada?" asked Mr. Blackmore. "It is about as good as so."

Mr. Isley said the constitutional validity of the proposed step was "at least doubtful."

Mr. B. H. Hanson (P.C.—York-South) said he did not fear delegating to a province powers which belonged to the dominion. The question of principle involved in the proposed Alberta bank should be dealt with by the House rather than be referred to a committee. The House must "grapple with the situation."

Mr. Blackmore said there must have been something wrong with the constitution of Canada if it were possible for a province to have a bank. The federal government was "a creature" of the four original provinces of the dominion.

"That's a new theory," said Mr. Hanson.

The question was whether parliament would grant a sovereign province some right to have part in its economic development.

Progressive Conservative members backed with the government in support of the amendment referred to the committee.

Ralston Says Inquiry Shows No Sect Members Mistreated When Called Up for Training

By JAMES MCCOOK

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—Defence Minister Ralston said yesterday in the Commons that an army inquiry at Winnipeg had found that members of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect called for military training had not been mistreated, but he had ordered a further inquiry by Maj.-Gen. J. P. Mackenzie, inspector-general for western Canada.

The defence minister said the statement after Rev. E. C. Hansell (S.C. Macleod) and Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.C.-York-Sunbury) had quoted from affidavits sworn to by friends of men in detention barracks who said they had been beaten.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said the affidavits were familiar to him and he had forwarded his copies to the defence minister.

QUOTES AFFIDAVIT

Mr. Hansell quoted from an affidavit signed by Elva F. Palmer, Winnipeg, who said her brother, Gordon M. Morrow, told her he had been beaten, but was "pushed around" while a pack was rapped over his back and he believed he had suffered a broken rib or ribs.

Mr. Hanson quoted from an affidavit by Stephen Klymuk, Whitecourt, Man., who visited Adam Remond, at the detention barracks in Winnipeg. Klymuk's affidavit said Remond had been beaten and placed under an ice cold shower for 20 minutes and that later a gun was held to his arm for several days.

Col. Ralston said a board of officers had inquired into the allegations of ill treatment of Martens, McMorris and Remond, Jehovah's witnesses, in the military detention barracks and found no mistreatment had taken place. Martens and McGuire were not further identified.

The board had invited the civilians who made the affidavits to appear before it on Saturday. The board was satisfied that no mistreatment had taken place and that no water treatment or anything of that nature had been administered.

TO VERIFY FINDINGS

Gen. MacKenzie would check and verify whatever findings were made by the board.

Mr. Coldwell said any inquiry should be held in public. He inquired on the Jehovah's Witnesses developed as the House began examination of defence minister's statement on the subject.

Answering questions, Justice Minister St. Laurent said that Camille Houde, former mayor of Montreal, had made another request for release from internment and an advisory committee soon would review his case.

John Lorrimer and Joseph Farr, both of Toronto, were interned June 1940, as partisans of the National Youth Council of which Adrien Arcand of Montreal, who is still interned, was leader, said Mr. St. Laurent.

In 1942, Lorrimer was granted his release after declaring his support of the war effort, and Farr was released last year after he was "severely beaten up" by Nazi elements in the streets for supporting the Allied cause.

INTERVIEWED IN 1939

A. N. Schneider, a resident of northern Saskatchewan, had first been interned in 1939 and released later that year, after Mr. St. Laurent said he was re-interned along with many other Canadians of German and Italian origin. He was released in February on recommendation of an advisory committee.

Mrs. D. W. Nielsen (U.N.-North Battleford) said the government should explain why Mr. Schneider was released.

"He was a liberal party organizer and we should know why he was released a few weeks before the provincial Saskatchewan election," said Mrs. Nielsen.

"There is no doubt that he was a Nazi," she added.

Mr. Schneider was a land and machine agent among the Germans in northern Saskatchewan.

"Possibly he was very kind to some of those people, giving them money on payments," said Mrs. Nielsen. "He probably got a hold on them and then got them to join him."

Most of the Germans in northern Saskatchewan wanted to be nothing more than good Canadians, but Mr. Schneider had tried "to infiltrate them" and "to get them to join him."

SAYS MANY RELEASED

J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C.—Lake Centre) said that between Jan. 25, 1943, and May 15, 1944, 20 per cent of those in the camps were released.

March 26, 1943, the date of the release of 20 per cent of those interned in Saskatchewan were released. He said that the release of 20 per cent of those interned in Saskatchewan was not the safety of the state had "entered into the equation."

Mr. St. Laurent said that Mr. W. Benne (P.C.—Saskatoon) said Mr. St. Laurent should explain why Mr. Farr, Lorrimer and Schneider were released.

More than 300 persons still were interned, excluding those of Japanese origin, but including 100 of Italian birth or naturalization, said Mr. St. Laurent.

Had as many as 141 of German origin, those of German racial origin, but British subjects by birth or naturalization, said Mr. St. Laurent.

At the evening sitting the House completed consideration of Justice Minister St. Laurent's statement on the subject of 234,712, with expenditures under the Defence of Canada Act, first to be considered.

Answering questions, Justice Minister St. Laurent said that Camille Houde, former mayor of Montreal, had made another request for release from internment and an advisory committee soon would review his case.

Allies to Face Adolf Hitler Line After Gustav Defences Smashed

LONDON, May 16.—(CP)—When Allied troops smash through the Hitler line in Italy they will be face to face with the second line of defences, the Adolf Hitler line. Such runs from five to 12 miles in the rear of the Gustav line.

From the plain names given the Hitler line apparently crosses the Liri valley, and is about 10 miles in length as the cross files. The left flank of the new German defences at Piedimonte is little more than five miles northwest of Cassino, a village on the Gustav line.

From San Oiva the line runs southeast to Eseria on the northern slopes of the formidable Aurunci range, which forms a natural barrier between Eseria to the sea.

Ralston Terms M.P.'s Question As "Shameful"

OTTAWA, May 16.—(CP)—Defence Minister Ralston, acting House leader, said in the Commons yesterday he would expect an opposition member to "hang his head in shame" at a question on whether Walter Winchell, United States columnist, had been paid an article in which he praised the Canadian war effort.

On the House order paper was a question by Dr. Bruce (P.C.—Toronto Parkdale) asking whether Mr. Winchell recently visited Canada, whether the wartime information board furnished him with material for recent articles and broadcasts, and what remuneration he received from the Canadian treasury for his services.

WINCHELL'S REPLY

(Informed of Dr. Bruce's question, Mr. Winchell said in New York it was the first time he had received "a kick in the britches" for doing someone a favour.)

Answering Dr. Bruce, Resources Minister Cresser said the government had no information on when Mr. Winchell had visited Canada, but the commentator had said it was in 1944. The W.B. did not furnish the information on the Canadian treasury for his services.

A separate technical branch of the mines and resources department of a ministry of forests would be created to deal with forest matters.

The object would be to conserve and manage forest resources to give employment to as many Canadians as possible and enable the dominion to compete in the world market.

REGULATE CUTTING

"We should, at the same time, regulate cutting by operators and plan reforestation in such a way that our forest estate will not be depleted while soil and water conditions would be favorably affected," said Mr. Bracken.

"Farming and fisheries are both affected by the preservation of properly wooded areas so the war effort of a one-supply" government would be hampered.

Conservative House leader, said he believed all House members agreed there should be no discouragement of public by being given the Canadian war effort in other nations. But sometimes there appeared to be difficulty in distinguishing between the war effort of a one-supply government and the war effort of Canadians generally.

"UNFORTUNATE" ATTITUDE

It was to be the attitude that there should not be publicity on the Canadian war effort in case it caused a benefit to the government, "we have come to a pass in this country," said Col. Ralston.

J. Goldwell, C.N.E. member, interjected that he thought the matter had been discussed long enough. The House then turned its attention to other matters.

The saxophone is named after its inventor, Adolph Sax.

McNaughton Says Most Hazardous Operations Near

MOOSEJAW, Sask., May 16.—(CP)—Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, former commander of the Canadian army overseas, said here yesterday that the most difficult and hazardous operations of the war were imminent.

"To help bring the invasion to a successful conclusion, Canadians must continue development of implements of warfare because the allies must be ready to take surprises and to spring counter-surprises and to have the counter-surprises in advance. "We have the grey matter in this country to do it," he said.

Gen. McNaughton's remarks came in an address he gave at an open air reception at a gathering of veterans in the Canadian Legion when he was made an honorary president of the Moosejawn branch, and in an interview.

Charge of Arson Is Denied by Accused

NELSON, B.C., May 16.—(CP)—Alfred J. Cleton, Canadian Pacific Railway station master at Brilliant, B.C., pleaded not guilty when he appeared before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in supreme court yesterday charged with arson in connection with a fire last March at nearby Brilliant. Boyd C. Affleck, civil engineer, submitted blueprints of the Brilliant No. 1 school, scene of the fire. The trial is continuing.

Crash Victim

CALGARY, May 16.—(CP)—An N.C.O. instructor from No. 32 E.F. S. 10, P.C. 10, died Sunday when his Cornell training plane crashed 25 miles west of Olds. Cause of the accident is unknown. Next-of-kin have been informed and the airman's name will be released shortly.

Trappers Return

THE PAS, Man., May 16.—(CP)—George Lush, George Black and Carl Buckholz arrived here yesterday from the Eskimo Point trapping district of North West Territories and reported an "exceptionally good" white fox catch this season.

Nazis Retreat In Disorder Before French

ALGERIA, May 16.—(AP)—German forces are in full "disorderly retreat" on the French sector of the Italian front and offering "little more than sporadic resistance," Gen. Charles de Gaulle told the cheering French consultative assembly yesterday.

Quoting telegrams from Gen. Alphonse Juin, French field commander, concerning week-end fighting, Gen. de Gaulle said "Advances are general on the entire front."

He read from Gen. Juin's Sunday telegram.

"We have taken possession of San Andrea, San Ambrogio and have completely cleared out the bend of the Garigliano (river). We have entered San Giorgio di Lupat. Pressing on from Mount Majo we have seized a dominating position on the San Giorgio and seized Corno."

More than 1,000 prisoners, including about 20 officers, of which six are superior officers, have been captured by the French.

The number of prisoners is mounting without cessation. Much material has been abandoned by the enemy on the field. All troops have given evidence of magnificent energy and courage."

OUTLINED PROGRAM

Dr. Lindemann outlined his five-point program as:

1. A comprehensive social security program.

2. A program for maximum employment.

3. A thoroughly democratic system of education.

4. A housing program which contemplates the elimination of slums.

5. A program for the leisure of the people.

Say McNaughton Will Be Retired As Full General

TORONTO, May 16.—(CP)—The Telegram in an Ottawa dispatch Monday said it was reported that Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton is soon to be made a full general, and retired on a special pension.

Dispatch said Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, acting head of the National Research Council in General McNaughton's absence, would be confirmed in that post.

Home-making, health and safety are the most popular Girl Guide training programs.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Baseball seems to have taken the war in stride; or the war seems to have taken baseball in stride because: (1) the St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Yankees in the world series of 1942; and (2) the Yankees downed the Cardinals in the series of '43; and (3) it seems now that the Yankees and Cards are virtually certain to tangle in a rubber match in the '44 series.

In connection with this probability, it seems now that the starting pitcher will be Lefty Max Lanier of the Cards vs. right-handed Hank Borowy of the Yanks. At the current writing they are the top pitchers in the majors; and their respective clubs have taken a firm hold on top position in the first time this season.

Both top clubs made an important move towards the world series by winning twin-bills Sunday. The Cardinals downed the Phillies 4-1, and the Yanks won both ends of a double-header from the Cleveland Indians.

Neither Lanier nor Borowy pitched over the weekend; but they still are tops in the flinging prize. Lanier, who pitched in the last two world series—winning one game in the '42 encounter and losing one in the '43 competition—has registered five straight victories this season.

Borowy, the right-handed screwballer, who won the third game of the last world series, giving the Yanks a 2-1 lead, has won four straight, his last pitched 2-2 in a relief, after losing a Yankee victory to the Yanks, who J. P. Goetz pitched. But during those 38-23 innings, Borowy yielded only three earned runs.

If these two flingers maintain their present pace, they will tangle in the opening game of the world series. If the Cards win, they repeat for their respective flag—which they seem likely to do. The Cards have been getting good pitching and good hitting—about 260. Meanwhile the Yanks have been getting good pitching and even better hitting—about 275.

When the war broke out, Chandler, star of the Yankee's pitching staff, Borowy stepped in and filled a gap that many had thought might deprive the Yanks of the pennant. Borowy, therefore, is a star starter—picked up four straight, his last pitched 2-2 in a relief, after losing a Yankee victory to the Yanks, who J. P. Goetz pitched. But during those 38-23 innings, Borowy yielded only three earned runs.

There is a striking similarity between the accomplishments of Borowy and Lanier. Both have appeared in five games. Borowy has allowed 29 hits, Lanier, 30. Compared with Lanier's wins, the Yanks are issued eight walks. He has struck out only 14, while the St. Louis southpaw has whiffed 22. Should this parallel continue, with the prowess of their respective clubs—the opening game of the world series will be a pitchers' battle de luxe between Lanier and Borowy.

Sports . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—Looks as if there's a slight football war brewing—and we don't mean the difference of opinion between Lou Little and Bill Binham about the college rule. . . . It seems the new American League on the Pacific Coast has been dickering with the National League clubs. . . . That, of course, would "outlaw" the Cardinals for five years, but it may be that some of them are shopping around to see if the risk is worth taking.

MATINEE
Notre Dame's newest "T" formation discovery is Joe Gasparillo, 22-year-old freshman from Yorkville, Pa., who was centre until Ed McKeever saw him pitching the ball during spring practice and made him a quarterback. . . . Lou Diamond, who hasn't had a fighter to manage since the Army fought against the light-weight champion Gene Leary, has bought lightweight Bobby Gunther from Chris Dundee, North Carolina, who has been a professional baseball club before the war, doesn't have even one this year.

A ROOKIE A DAY
Ed Lopat, White Sox pitcher, full name Edmund Lopatnick, New York boy, was one of 12 players who made good out of 1,000 who were drafted in a Dodge car lot school in 1952. . . . Was sent to minor as a first baseman but two years later decided to be a pitcher. . . . Proved it last season by leading Southern Association with a 3.05 earned run average and winning 19 games for Little Rock.

28 University Hospital Nurses Receive Pins At Graduating Exercises Here

Twenty-eight nurses of the graduating class of the University Hospital School of Nursing and four nurses, affiliated students from the Provincial Mental hospital at Ponoka, received their pins at graduating exercises in the auditorium of St. Stephen's College, Monday evening.

Proud parents and friends filled the hall to capacity as the 32 girls marched in, in crisis in their white uniforms and caps and carrying bouquets of deep red roses.

Pinning his address around the five letters "N.R.S.E." Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent of the Royal Alexandra hospital, told the graduating class that "N" stands for "nurses," which may be taken as a sort of rough index of the character of a nurse and the type of service she is likely to give. Whenever a physician or patient has to do with an untidy nurse, one naturally looks for pins in surgical wounds, mistakes in charting or errors in dosage, or other breaks in technique, the doctor said.

"N" also stands for "nerves," those qualities of spirit and stability of character which enable one to carry on and endure long tedious hours of duty. Nursing is not calling for those with unstable nervous equilibrium nor with hereditary or environmental background of hysteria or neurosis, the speaker stated. "U" is for uniform of the nurse, which commands the respect of the

Three Men Hurt In Cave-in at Civic Project

Three city employees, removed from a pit at No. 3 sewage disposal plant in a matter of minutes after a cave-in had occurred, were rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital, suffering injuries.

Two received injuries sufficient to necessitate their remaining at the hospital. The third, after examination, went home.

Taken to hospital were Martin Konor, 50 years old, of 9344 49 avenue, who received two or three broken ribs; Philip Buesen, 30, of 9941 45 avenue, suffering slight injuries as a result of being crushed against a timber in the ditch; David Jones, 46-year-old foreman, 11386 72 street, who went home after examination.

According to officials of the city engineers department, a number of men were digging a sewer ditch in a section where the surface was of a sandy nature. A number of timbers had been placed in the excavation, as the work progressed.

About 1:30 p.m. without warning the top gave way, covering the three workers. The fact that timbers in the ditch created an air space is credited with having prevented a fatality.

In the matter of minutes other workmen had released the trapped men and city firemen had been called bringing a pump which was used to pump the men out.

The three men were conscious when released.

Bulletin Your Baby Patterns

The yearning of parents to keep their children from a knowledge of all evils and to spare them the pain of fighting and quarrelling, may lead to social isolation which is crushing to the development of the child.

However, laudable as these aims for children, they are completely divorced from reality. Children have to learn to live by living and they are certain to discover the ugly along with the beautiful. It is only by such contrast of good and bad behavior that the child is able to choose the one which represents him as a person.

Mrs. McC. thinks she should adopt a baby so her 7-year old daughter will have someone to play with. She feels that the child is lonely for companionship and she often asks her parents to get her a little baby brother or sister.

"I don't let her go to the neighbor's house," says the mother, "and there is so much meanness going on. Then, too, our neighbors let their children go wherever and whenever they want to. I'm afraid I am going to ruin them by letting them be so satisfied at home."

Somewhat the thought of a parent's child normal child is an experience in order that she may not be lonely. It is a little bit of life as cruel as it is short-lived. This is to take unfair advantage of the child.

Why can't the neighbor's children come to play with her? McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Second of a series of four articles on the West End convention.

The opening bid of two clubs on the hand shown today seeks definite information, as outlined in yesterday's article. North's correct response, holding an ace but not the ace or king of trump, is:

♠ K 9 8 5	♠ 10 7 6 5
♥ A 10 9 8	♥ 7 6 5 4
♦ A 10 9 8	♦ 7 6 5 4
♣ A 10 9 8	♣ 7 6 5 4
♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
♥ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♥ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2	♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

bid the ace suit, i.e., two hearts. This response is made regardless of the length of the ace suit; it merely shows the ace of hearts and denies a higher ranking suit.

Now South would like to find out whether North has any of spades or the ace of diamonds, hence his bid of two spades.

North held the ace of diamonds, he would respond three diamonds, but not holding this card, he responds his king of spades by bidding three spades. South now knows that he is off the ace of diamonds and closes the bidding with six clubs.

ACOUSTICS ARE NOT DETERMINED BY THE SIZE OF A ROOM

If a certain room has unusually good acoustics, you may copy it in another house or building only to find that it has very poor acoustics there. The shape of a room has considerable effect upon the sound reflections of that room, but many other factors may make or break the acoustic characteristics. Some of these factors are the materials of which the walls are made, the drapes or curtains on the windows, the covering of the floor and the materials of which the ceilings are made.

A valedictory is not a final farewell where you may go your way and are expected to be forever a small part. The University of Alberta at the Valedictory exercises of the graduating class of '41 in Convocation hall Monday afternoon.
